THE NORTH COUNTRY

Free Press

The extraordinary influx of immigrants into Canada raises the question of the valuable lands for settlement. As is well known these along the inside lines of railways in the west are very well taken up but it is reassuring to read the letter just received by a gentleman from the Rev. John McDougall, chairman of the Indian district of the Manitoba and Northwest conference of the Methodist church, who writing on that very question as to the value for settlement of lands in the Territories north of Manitoba, says:

"East of Sandy Lake to the Peace river country west of the Lesser Slave lake. I may modestly say that I have a general knowledge of the soil, climate and topography and geography of the territory which is that through which the trans-Canada line is scheduled to traverse. I may very safely say that I believe all the portion I have designated is well fitted for settlement; soil rich, moisture assured, sunshine abundant, growth rapid—I have noted this on lake shore, river banks and across hundreds of portages. Moreover, I have seen and partaken of the fruits and vegetables and cereals grown at Hudson Bay company's posts and mission stations, and in the gardens of fur traders, as also in and around the homes of pioneer settlers and many Indian people.

"So far as I have seen or been able to learn, there are no very serious difficulties in the way of a railroad all through the proposed route. Everywhere within the scope of my range of this line, tremendous water powers are plentiful, cheaply generated electricity might pull your trains for a couple of thousand miles of the whole distance.

"Another great property of this north land is its rich scenic quality. I have often said to myself, let but this beautiful country come in touch with the people south and east by modern transport and this will be the summer ground of hundreds of thousands of humanity. The opportunity for bathing and fishing and yachting amid the glories and beauties of nature is without limit.

"In my experience, your proposed line is largely out of the storm courses across the continent, as all the country north of the 49th parallel is less subject to extreme storms than that south of it. So in a ratio of descending altitude and more equal conditions the further north the less violent storms.

To sum up, we may safely say of this north country: its altitude is very much lower, its summer sunshine very much longer, its possibilities of summer frosts very much less than the country further south, all of which has been amply demonstrated, and all of which is reasonable because of the general geography and topography and make-up of the country."

This is good news for those who, like the party to whom this letter was written are interested in the construction of a line of railway to cross this northern country, and especially good news to those Canadians who are seeking to develop Canada in its depth as well as in its breadth, and to make the most of our really great lands. According to the Rev. John McDougall, there are millions of acres of splendid lands awaiting the railway and the settler.

The secretary's report was of great interest and indicated that matters were very favorable at present for the horse industry. The exports and imports were increasing as the following figures showed:

Exports.	1901	1902
To British Columbia	1,351	3,875
To rest of Canada and	207	444
Imports	4,045	4,416

From Eastern Canada

From United States

The question of the minimum value to be placed by the customs on imported horses was again discussed, and owing to so many inferior horses being brought in the association considered it should be placed at not less than $50. Legislation will also be proposed at Regina that all stallions held for service must be registered with a fee of five dollars for purchased ones and fifty dollars for others.

200 = LOTS = 200

A portion of the ROWLAND ESTATE, otherwise known as "THE SYNDICATE."

Plans and Prices can be seen at the Office on and after the date mentioned.

This is the closest and best property available, and the choicest in and about Edmonton. The furthest part is from 10 to 15 minutes from the post office. The property is eminently the people's portion: is not controlled by a policy of inertia dictated by "Hebraic Hatred." The surveys conform to existing ones, and the streets will be projected to their legitimate confines. Building Sites on the verge of the hill overlooking the mighty Saskatchewan, the foliage and verdure of whose banks is not exceeded by the fiercest tropics or softest Pacific scenes, abound. Prices will be uniform and moderate, tempered as a corrective of the present indefinite craze.

TERMS.—One third Cash. Balance 6 and 12 months, interest 8 per cent. Agreements $2 each, transfers free.

The North Western Agricultural College

The Northwestern Agricultural College and experiment station, recently opened by the mayor of Regina and the minister of agriculture of the Northwest Territories and which is located in a spacious hall in Regina, is now in active operation and the teaching is calculated to result in great benefits to the farmers and their assistants in the Territories as well as throughout Western Canada. The teaching covers a short course occupying twelve weeks, and it has been so arranged that a student entering the college on any date will take the entire course just the same as if all had entered on the same date. The college course comprises the seven departments of farm, live stock, dairying, poultry, horticulture, agricultural mechanics, (including practical repairs of all kinds of harness and implements), and experimental work. Students' time is not being wasted by useless book cramming. The entire work is done by means of lectures illustrated by living specimens, micro-photographs, projections, diagrams, and actual farm work, during the open season the students having to take their turn in real agricultural work on lands adjoining the college. This session the subjects already dealt with embrace a practical study of conformation in beef and dairy cattle; the main essentials in beef production; the formation and management of the dairy herd; the raising of sheep for mutton; the cause, prevention and cure of scab and mange in animals; the cause, prevention and cure of hog cholera and swine fever; the cause and treatment of rabies and kindred subjects. The entire cost of the college courses is $10 (ten dollars), and board and lodging will be provided for students at $4.50 per week. A register of situations vacant on farms will be kept at the college and intending students and others concerned are requested to note that there are no extra charges either for books or access to the employment register. In addition to these valuable facilities, all students who keep the full term of twelve weeks, are of good behavior, and pass a creditable examination prior to leaving the college will be presented with free transportation, either to the place where they came or to a new situation. The college has been endowed to meet a great want in the Territories, the necessary financial aid for which could not be obtained at present either from the Dominion or the Territorial government; but the leading agricultural experts of each government will, from time to time attend the college and deliver lectures on various subjects amongst them being Professor J. W. Robertson, LL.D., Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture, and Dairying; Professor Grisdale, agriculturalist at the Central experimental farm, Ottawa; Professor, G. A. Hobber, professor of anatomy at the University of Bishop's College; and others. Professor W. H. Oard, LL.D., formerly of the Dominion department of Agriculture, Ottawa, is managing director, professor of agriculture, and lecturer on entomology, and he will be pleased to furnish information to all desiring it in reference to the college and experiment station.

WHITE WHALE LAKE
Our new postal route has been opened up at last. There was considerable delay because of the change in the postmaster at Lake St. Anne. It will be a great convenience to the two settlements. The mail carrier takes the mail from Stony Plain to our settlement on Wednesday. Then on to Lake St. Anne and back on Thursday and down to Stony Plain on Friday in time to connect with the mail for Edmonton. A number of the settlers along the trail are arranging for private boxes at the most convenient points. Thus they may have almost a local delivery at trifling cost. We are very thankful to the post office officials for their promptness in action, and to Frank Oliver, M.P., for his active sympathy.

Seeding is all finished, here, and planting about done also. The grain looks promising on the ground, wheat and oats up three inches and over. No such dry spring for years here. Unfortunately prairie fires have been allowed to run and are now in the bush, and great quantities of what might have been useful fuel for settlers in future days, have already gone up in smoke; and the shins are darkened. It is bound to destroy green timber also.

I am aware that many assert that the clearing off of the dead standing or fallen timber by fire is a real benefit, relieving the would-be settler of the work of clearing with the axe. Yet in a few years these people will change their views and wish the destruction had not occurred.

White Whale schoolhouse is about completed, and on the broadness of the board as well as the efficiency of the building. The settlers on the north side of the Reserve are also beginning to organize forces to secure a school district. Now in recent years has the price of rat skins ruled so high, and it is almost impossible to induce the Stronachs to stay on the reserve under the circumstances. Who can blame them? The ice is much later melting on the lakes this year than last. Trails were never better for travel unless it be in the bias where fires are running.

NOTICE.

To Contractors, Farmers and all who have machines liable to renewal or repair.

The business heretofore carried on under the name of the "Edmonton Iron Works" will now be transacted by the "Edmonton Iron Working Company" at the same place of business as in the past.

The new company is now installing new machinery as fast as it can be got upon the ground. The company is also prepared to furnish to the various trades all cast iron work and machined castings at a price that will prohibit importation of these things.

CONTRACTORS
Contractors can procure cast iron columns of any design, wash weights, ash doors, brass rods, bolts, and nuts, for building and bridging purposes, etc., on shortest reasonable notice.

FARMERS
Farmers can have their mowers, binders and thrashers overhauled and put in first class state, thus, in any case, saving the expense of a new machine for some years.

OWNERS OF ENGINES AND BOILERS
Competent men are always on hand to go into the country and repair engines and boilers that cannot be brought to the shop.

TUBES, MOOT for patches, patch bolts, etc., always on hand.

TERMS
Terms cash, except in cases of contracts accounts.

The new company asks no favor from the public, except opportunity therefore if work is not promptly and satisfactorily performed it will be deemed sufficient reason for the discontinuance of the customer.

Customers will confer a favor upon the company by reporting any laxity or discounting by the employees on the performance of their work.
